

Transportation fact sheet

Airports

Rabat is served by two international airports: Rabat Salé Airport (RBA), just a half hour from the city, and the more-frequented Mohammed V Airport in Casablanca (CMN), at a one-and-a-half-hour train or car ride away.

How to commute between the airports and Rabat

- Book a private transfer in advance:
 - SAYARTI LOC – Whatsapp/phone: +212 666942355 / +212 662108013 / +212 631194740 – contact@sayartiloc.ma
 - ICON TRANS – Whatsapp/phone: +212 661307982 – icontransportmorocco@gmail.com
- Take the train from Casablanca Airport (CMN) to Casa-Voyageurs, then change to another train to Rabat Agdal or Rabat Ville. The train station at Casablanca Airport is in the basement (arrivals) of Terminal 1. Train schedules and ticket purchases are available at <https://www.oncf-voyages.ma>. There is no train service from Rabat Salé Airport to Rabat.

Shuttle service from Rabat to the conference venue

The conference's activities will occur in Africa Business School's building in the University Mohammed VI Polytechnique's Rabat Campus. The campus is within a 15-kilometer, 30-minute drive from Rabat.

We provide a regular shuttle service for participants connecting the conference venue and selected hotels at Rabat's city center:

Taxis and ride-hailing service

Taxis are readily available in Rabat and are an inexpensive way to get around the city. Careem, a ride-hailing company subsidiary of Uber, also serves Rabat. The Careem app is available at <https://help.careem.com/hc/en-us/articles/360001609567-Downloading-Careem-app>.

Tram

Two tram lines connect Rabat Medina, the ancient part of the city, with the newer part. This is an excellent mode of transportation within Rabat because of its frequent service, low fare (around 60 Euro cents a ride), latest infrastructure (such as free onboard Wi-Fi), and connection to key-city attractions. Please note there is no tram service between Rabat's city center and the conference venue.
